

Warrior Researchers and Anne Milne

So here's a challenge as you post, research and think about ways of working with our mokopuna. How will we as kaiako ensure the questions, struggles and empowerment of these students is addressed at each and everyone of our kindergartens. These are the warrior researchers from Kia Aroha College from where Anne Milne was Principal.

<https://vimeo.com/304548644> This is the link also from her

Ulearn presentation in 2017 where you see more of the students in action and post college. These students ask of us some powerful questions if you are willing to listen and hear.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q_jhd4G7SaA&feature=youtu.be

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5cTvi5qxqp4>

Mā te kimi ka kite, Mā te kite ka mōhio, Mā te mōhio ka mārama Seek and discover.

Discover and know. Know and become enlightened.

Learning is a journey. It starts with a conscious effort to seek knowledge. Upon seeking, you will surely discover a brand new thing or see a familiar object in a totally new light. Eventually, the things you know will lead you to become wise beyond your years.

Here is the film made about the college by International Film Maker Faolan Jones called Warrior Scholars - Decolonising education <https://vimeo.com/215812317>

You can read Faolan's blog post about the film on <https://liberate-ed.com/.../warrior-scholars-decolonizing-ed.../>

I have also purchased the webinar from Facebook and am happy to share the link for teams who are working on this mahi.

Comments:

Rochelle Steer

on Apr 20

Whoop, whoop found it. Thanks Margie.

Amanda de Baugh

on Apr 20

Thank you Margie.

Debbie Masters

on Apr 20

Cheers for this Margie. It's been an awesome and extremely moving watch. It gives us lots to think about at our level.

Kirsty Parker

Tuesday at 2:23am

Thanks Margie, I agree with Debbie. Very powerful presentations and lots for all of us in education to think about.

Donna Bishop

Tuesday at 3:01am

awesome thank you

Toshi Phillips

Wednesday at 12:23am

Wow this was amazing. A powerful demonstration of being culturally connected and grounded, and how this empowers students. I liked the closing comments about shifting our focus from 'a focus on fixing' to 'fixing the focus'. Thanks for sharing, Margie.

